A Voyage of Life

In our voyage of life we are coming rapidly into our first port—graduation. Our ship has carried us smoothly and safely over the waves of unrest and chaos in a post-war world which has been literally torn asunder by ravages of war and post-war instability. We are about to set our feet upon the shores of what we hope will be a world of happiness and peace. Thus far, we have made our voyage together. From here each of us will chart his own respective course. As individuals, we embark upon the voyage of life.

We have landed on the shores of a world which is hopefully searching for the elements which compose lasting peace. Mingled with these elements at the present time are fragments of jealousy, fear, and hate. We seek happiness and success. We seek freedom of individual enterprise. We strive with the best that is in us. We, therefore, want to do our fair share to clear away these clouds of jealousy, fear, and hate, and to crystallize the elements of peace into a world of good will and progress which all men and nations will strive to strengthen and preserve.

What we believe determines what we do with our lives. Consequently we must keep ourselves well informed. We must have faith: faith in our Creator, faith in mankind, and faith in ourselves. Faith implies action, for it is that creative power that lies within us. We must have purpose, for the world is just as big as the purpose we achieve. We must have courage to stand up for our convictions which should be based upon a Christian philosophy of a democratic way of life. This way of life chooses freedom, righteousness, and God.

"Bon Voyage"

Four years ago we Seniors started our high school career. We were slightly bewildered at the many things that we know we had to meet. However, as we went from one year to the next, we became more sure of ourselves. Now in our Senior year we are proud of the fact that we had come this far. We realize that we could not have done this, had it not been for the teachers, principals, and School Board. We know that we owe them a debt of gratitude that can't be repaid by a few words.

We are now ready to take one of the biggest steps in our lives. We have received our training and are prepared to launch out into the world and meet its many problems. Many of us will go to college and others will prefer to start earning their own living; whatever it may be, we will step into it as men and women who will be proud to say that we graduated from Chartiers High School.

Seamen - First Class

Seniors

The Class of '48 has worked well together as a Senior class. Also, as Juniors and Sophomores, they were always active and had successful activities and projects. One reason for this might be due to the fact that all three years, they were under the able leadership of the same president, Don Malarkey.

He has proved time and again to be quite capable of the job and worthy of the honor bestowed upon him.

Each year the rest of the officers have proved themselves worthy and have worked well to make the Class of '48 what it is. The class also thanks their sponsor, Miss Peacock, for her helpful guidance.

Ship's Log

Well, mates, here we are seniors with graduation day not far ahead! This is the time we have all been waiting for and, I guess, we feel very proud of ourselves.

But do you remember a day just four short years ago (for some it may be five or six) when we were mere freshmen? Remember all those English rules we had to memorize and the innumerable lunch periods we spent with our favorite English teacher, because we hadn't learned them quite right? The Washington Seminary holds fond memories for some of us because we couldn't find time to pass certain subjects in a regular nine month period. We didn't get much of anything done that year but were pushed around until we got into the swing of things.

Now we're sophomores! We have a little more to do and with Miss Lawton as our class advisor we have made a success out of the sophomore dance. We elected class officers for the first time and have high hopes for the future.

It's now September of 1946 as we shove off into our junior year with banners flying. Things are really happening fast! Everyone has to do some sailing this year to get things done on time. Remember the play, "Here Comes the Brides", that we put on? Johnny Carroll's two stirring lines won't soon be forgotten. All those skating parties, juke box dances, square dances, assemblies (mostly good but a few dry ones mixed in too), and numerous other things will live in our memories. Who will ever forget the decorations for the Prom? How could we have ever struggled through all those activities without the assistance of Mrs. Hackman, our class advisor?

Room 17 ahoy! Now we're seniors! There is never a dull moment. We wonder if Miss Rutherford's efforts to teach math to McGowan and Savelsberg will be in vain. They may even become famous mathematicians. We beat Canonsburg Gunners at last! Mr. Matz gave us a whole day to celebrate. It will be difficult to choose a King and Queen of May because there are so many seniors deserving of the honor. Graduation is just around the corner and to be honest with ourselves we are sorry it is all over. We fully realize that these days will be some of our most cherished memories.

But time waits for no one and we must now embark on our long voyage into uncharted future.

Seamen - Second Class

Juniors

A Junior class is at an ideal age to gossip about its high school career: the perplexities of the lower classmen are past; the dignity of the grave and reverend seniors has not as yet descended upon their shoulders.

The leaders of this class are very capable in leading their class activities and planning a most successful Prom under Miss Rutherford's guidance.

A group of eleven struggling young actors and actresses and their director, Mr. Ralph B. Mitchell, were hard at work on the first play ever presented by our class of '48, then Juniors. The play was presented on March 27 and 28, 1947.

All who took part in it won't ever forget the fun and thrill of being in a performance they can remember with pride for being a part of it.

"Educational Meetings"

Hi-Y

After five years of clear sailing, the Hi-Y of Chartiers High School has become one of the most active clubs of our school.

This year under the leadership of its adviser, Mr. Hamilton, the Hi-Y with the Tri-Hi-Y were hosts at the "Y" Rally on December 4. Christmas cards were sent to the veterans at Aspinwall Hospital.

The main purpose of the club is to promote Christian living in the school.

The Chartiers High School Glee Club is composed of the sophomores, juniors, and seniors and is under the able direction of Miss Irene Grable. The Glee Club performs in the usual Christmas, Easter, and many other assemblies. From the Glee Club some are chosen to sing in the girls and boys ensemble.

Last year five persons attended the Western Pennsylvania Song Festival at Clairton, Pa. They were: Elizabeth Jacobs, Marjorie Peacock, David Westwater, Arthur Miller, and Harry Miller.

This year the Western Choral Festival was held in Greensburg, Pa. on April 22 - 24. The members who attended were: Beatrice Arnone, Peggy Hunter, and Harry Miller.

Future Band ---

School Band

In the second year of its existence, our small band, consisting of pupils from the third grade to the twelfth, has been progressing nicely.

Although our band is only in the making under the capable leadership of Mr. Gruver, we are sure to have a very successful band on the high seas in a very short time.

"Check Your Book?"

Librarians

And then, what would we do without the librarians? With "Captain" Mabel Peacock at the helm and her competent crew, it's smooth sailing whether you want a reference book, a mystery story, or just a plain dramatic novel.

Each girl gives up one period a week to be librarian. Her duties are to check books out for a period of time, to check books in when they are due, file cards, and collect fines.

We also have Miss Peacock to thank for the many new books that keep appearing in our library.

"Apprentice Secretaries"

Secretaries

Twenty students from the Senior class under the guidance of Miss Jaylock give up their spare time to act as secretaries to the Faculty.

Each student is assigned to a teacher and carries out the work requested in line with the commercial department.

This work aids the student in preparing for the future as office workers by giving them training in operating various office machines. With all this experience, each secretary becomes very accurate and efficient at her work.

"Into the Basket"—

Basketball

Chartiers has completed another fairly successful season. Although we lost nine out of ten exhibition games, we compiled a better league record in Section 22 than any previous Chartiers team. Ending in a first place tie with East Wash at 11 victories and 1 defeat each. East Wash defeated us in the playoff game.

In our annual Senior-Underclassmen game, the seniors dropped a very close and exciting game by the score 49-48. Coach Tom Smith will lose Scarton, Wolfe, Davis, and Carroll but he expects to have a good team again next season.

Noreen Carroll, our little Buckyette, is only five years old and really knows how to cheer.
